The map shows a city grid with the following streets and landmarks:

Phone Calls to the North Pole - Comporium Telephone Museum

Take a trip around the world (just like our favorite world-traveler, Santa!) by visiting each of the Santa's Main Street Workshop locations below. At each location, in addition to creating, playing, or learning about Christmas in other parts of the world, you will also be able to learn about a local nonprofit organization that is working to make our community a better place where everyone belongs. No question about it, these nonprofits are definitely on Santa's nice list!

Collect a gnome stamp for each location that you visit— we don't want you to miss one, so make sure you check your list twice!
